

Jets vs. Blues live free 18 December 2025

Mane forced a superb, leaping save from Dubravka as he nodded an Alexander-Arnold free-kick goalwards. The Premier League team, as opposed to the reserve line-up consigned to Arnhem, has looked better ever since. A farcical goal doubled the score just before half-time when Kelechi Iheanacho's free kick was flicked on by William Troost-Ekong, rebounded off the head of Salaheldin Nemer and then the face of Taiwo Awoniyi before sneaking under goalkeeper Ali Abu-Eshrain. Bruno Fernandes also needs licence to create, arrive in the box and generally pull the strings for this United side as he did in their best moments of last season. I think the way he played at Burnley, even if he didn't score a goal, was extraordinary, the way he played for the team. Following Burnley's comeback victory against Watford on Saturday, the pressure was firmly on Frank Lampard's side, and the importance of the game was shown by the scenes around the ground before kick-off as Everton fans lined the streets to greet their side's arrival. But Maupay was equally at fault for his rugby-style defending on the Belgian who just used his strength to brush him off. Frank Lampard will be the new manager of Everton, according to a report in the Telegraph. Second interviews were held this week, and the Every game, if I wasn't in school I'd be watching it with my mates and my family. I don't get bored with it really, I just want to remake it. A 12th-minute own goal from right wing-back Sergi Canos gave them the lead, before Son Heung-min finished off a scintillating counter-attack in the second half. New Manchester United chief executive Richard Arnold wants to leave the football decisions to the football department - who will still report to him - as he tries to turn things around. The graphic below reveals the illustrious elite in his company, including the likes of Mesut Ozil, David Silva, Eden Hazard and Kevin De Bruyne - of which only the latter would notably exceed Eriksen for creative returns per 90.

Championship fixtures
Championship table
Goalkeeper: Neil Etheridge (Birmingham) - 7.19 rating
Birmingham picked up five massive points in March to help steer clear of danger. He didn't go on to say: Look, why the hell would anybody switch clubs right now? There's a pandemic on, which means quarantine regulations of one kind or another almost everywhere, and chances are you'll pitch up at a club only to find the training ground closed, or the league paused, or half your new teammates are in isolation for two weeks. And moving house will be a nightmare. Wait for spring. Wait for the coming of the sun. Wait. But we can read between the lines. Boubakary Soumare, Filip Benkovic and Luke Thomas are out while Kiernan Dewsbury-Hall is struggling with a calf problem and Timothy Castagne is a doubt. Remaining fixtures: November 12: Moldova vs Scotland - kick-off 5pm
November 12: Austria vs Israel - kick-off 7.45pm
November 12: Denmark vs Faroe Islands - kick-off 7.45pm
November 15: Israel vs Faroe Islands - kick-off 7.45pm
November 15: Scotland vs Denmark - kick-off 7.45pm
November 15: Austria vs Moldova - kick-off 7.45pm Group G - Netherlands closing in The Netherlands are closing in on automatic qualification after beating Gibraltar last time out, but they are still only two points ahead of Norway with two games to play. Follow this link for the former Manchester United defender's verdict or listen to the podcast below... I thought it was a penalty first, but when I saw it again, I wasn't convinced. It was a little bit too theatrical, the way he [Gordon] went down. That shock deal once again hammered home the importance of having a rich owner in modern football, with the Serbia striker making an instant impact in Turin with the opener in last weekend's win over Verona, which moved EXOR-backed Juve into fourth place in the standings. It was a bit of a shock because you don't really think about individual awards, especially mid-season, but it's always nice to win things. Mount took huge interest in getting to know Bethany, Ian, Ruby and Abdullah, and probed the latter about his ambition of working in the gaming industry. Rooney spoke to Derby's administrators before his media conference ahead of Sunday's Championship encounter with Birmingham. City, who had won one of their past six league games, were frustrated in the first half but Caroline Weir curled home three minutes after the break. The caretaker manager also pointed out this was not the first time United have adopted high-pressing tactics this season. England must make their advantages count I think he will change it and I would as well. I could change all the front players, apart from Kane, and we would not be weakened. How do Liverpool stop Lukaku? Klopp on 'sensational' Tuchel's rise
Trent's vision coach explains all
Get Sky Sports - Latest offers
Arsenal showed how not to defend Lukaku, but Liverpool won't
This is such a fascinating game, one which provides both teams with the chance to make a statement. Ashley Barnes and Connor Roberts are not yet ready for the matchday squad as they continue recoveries from injury and a non-coronavirus-related infection respectively. But on a day when Thomas Tuchel was crying out for an X-factor in front of goal after a frustrating first half, Ziyech produced a moment of quality that harked back to his Ajax days, and could be the catalyst for him to finally start producing on a weekly basis for the Blues. While the concepts behind the tests might seem dated in comparison to contemporary psychology theory, they pushed the boundaries of thinking at the time, particularly in a sport that had seen very little, if anything, in the way of psychology-focused interventions. Lampard's side have now conceded nine goals in their last two away games, while the former Chelsea boss is the first Everton manager to lose each of his first four away games in charge of the club in 66 years.